DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 9, 10, 13, 14 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Applicant's admitted prior art (AAPA – Fig. 2).

Claim 1:

AAPA shows a tunable two-pole passive notch filter for attenuating select frequencies of a multi-frequency CATV signal (spec – page 2, line 13 to page 3, line 22) comprising: an input for receiving a multi-frequency CATV signal (input defined by the Examiner as input to node connecting C1 and C3); an output for transmitting a portion of the multi-frequency CATV signal (output defined by the Examiner as output to node connecting L1 and C4); and a filter network for attenuating a band of frequencies from the multi-frequency signal, the filter network comprising three branches A, B, and C where branch A (L3) and branch B (C1 + L1) are connected in parallel and are arranged in series connection between the input and output, branch A comprises an inductor (L3), branch B comprises an adjustable tank circuit (C1 + L1; series resonant tank circuit where the resultant notch resonant frequency response is shown in Figs. 5a and 5b), and branch C comprises an adjustable electrical resonator (C2 + L2; parallel resonant tank circuit where the resultant notch resonant frequency response is shown in Figs. 5a and 5b).

Claim 2:

Where the adjustable electrical resonator comprises a parallel LC circuit ($C2 + L2$) shunted between branch C and ground.

Claims 5 and 6:

Where branch C further comprises a first capacitor ($C3$) connected between input and the adjustable electrical resonator ($L2 + C2$).

Claims 9, 10, 13 and 14:

Where branch C further comprises a second capacitor ($C4$) connected between the adjustable electrical resonator ($L2 + C2$) and the output.

Claim 17:

Where the adjustable tank circuit and the adjustable electrical resonator each include a variable inductor ($L1$ and $L2$ respectively).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 19 – 37 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Claims 19 and 33:

AAPA shows the CATV two pole filter comprising branches A, B, and C but does not show the second inductor where branch A ($L3$) and branch B ($C1 + L1$) are connected in parallel and are arranged in series connection between the output and a second inductor arranged in series between the input and branches A and B (claim 19); or a fourth inductor arranged in parallel with the adjustable tank circuit and in series connection between the input and the output (claim 33).

Claims 3, 4, 7, 8, 11, 12, 15, 16 and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Clark et al. – shows a four pole filter.

Zennamo, Jr, et al. ('251) – shows a four pole filter.

West et al. – shows a trap filter using SAW.

Palinkas – shows a four pole filter.

Farmer et al. – shows a trap filter using SAW.
